Based on the given passage, answer the questions 1-5 :

Three major verdicts given by the Supreme Court during the 1980s and the 1990s goaded the state to assume greater responsibility in the matter of providing access to education. These verdicts (Bandhua Mukti Morcha vs the Union of India, 1981; Mohini Jain vs Karnataka State, 1992; Unnikrishnan vs Andhra Pradesh, 1993) seemed to offer eminent examples of the hermeneutic space available in the Constitution, revealing how important it was to read the Constitution imaginatively in order to crystallize the ideas that may not have been fully articulated. The crowning exercise of this kind figured in the Mohini Jata case in which the court extended the scope of Article 21 by reading into the fundamental right to life a vision of life which includes the nurturing force of education. This hermeneutic exercise was widely hailed as a major advance in the evolution of democratic polity. It was expected that the court's interpretation of Article 21 would trigger significant civil activism on behalf of the educationally deprived. This expectation was not fulfilled as such, but after several years spent drafting led to the enactment of an amendment in the Constitution which rendered elementary education an explicitly stated fundamental right.

The new right granted to children leaves the state free to impart education by any means that it may by law determine to be suitable for this purpose. During the recent years we have witnessed the official acceptance of several other alternative modes. Neither the court nor the parliament have succeeded in making a dent on the systemic tendency to first devise a cheaper alternative for the poor and then to promise populist measures to improve it. In the absence of systematic reform, one cannot hope for clearer perception of stronger will to counter the ideology which permits childhood to be defined differently for the labouring poor. The State's responsibility towards these precious, formative year of life has been suitably accommodated in the amended version of the same Article 45 which had served little use to achieve the purpose stated in it and which, therefore required the enhancement of Article 21.

Based on the given passage, answer the questions 26–30 :

The court has made dissection of animals optional for biology students. I wonder if another court order can be sought to make observation of nature a requirement for science study. A student can get through school with shining success without developing the ability to notice details in natural phenomena. There are children whose entire knowledge of nature comes from books, the blackboard, and a few laboratory experiments. In the case of some, we can add a computer monitor. I wish the science syllabi might include a reading of the King Solomon's Ring, a delightful classic on animal behaviour and Jungle and Backyard, a collection of essays by the late M. Krishnan. It is a pity our children get no taste of the pleasure that careful observation of a cat, a fish, or a tree in natural circumstances can bring.

Books which are not fortunate enough to gain the status of textbooks mean nothing in our system. Otherwise, a remarkable book on trees written by Chakravarti S. Venkatesh would have made an impact. The kind of leisure it demands, and the freedom to connect things in one's mind, it assumes, have no place in our schools because they are fixated on textbook-based examination.

I recall meeting a large group of children outside the wolf's compound in the Tokyo Zoo. Several hours later. I noticed the children and their teacher still busy with the wolf. They had spent the day watching every part and behaviour of the wolf, taking notes and comparing their observations with those given in the books they were carrying.

Our children, of course, never get this kind of opportunity or training. A visit to the zoo means everything, just as our syllabi provide a cursory, whirlwind coverage of every topic and fact. A group of children was rushing past the photo exhibition at the Sabarmati Ashram. Two boys managed to stop at a picture for a few minutes, noticing something unusual in it. As I watched in horror, one of the teachers came back looking for the boys and the first thing she did on finding them was to slap and scold them for staying behind. Anyone who has hung around school corridors would know that teachers give priority to maintaining group discipline over appreciating individual curiosity or effort.

जानवरों का विच्छेदन जीव-विज्ञान के छात्रों के लिए न्यायालय द्वारा ऐच्छिक बना दिया गया है। मुझे आश्चर्य है यदि न्यायालय का कोई दूसरा आदेश प्रकृति के अवलोकन को विज्ञान अध्ययन के लिए आवश्यक बना दे। प्राकृतिक परिघटनाओं के विवरण को देखने की क्षमता विकसित किए बिना ही एक छात्र अभूतपूर्व सफलता प्राप्त कर स्कूल से उत्तीर्ण होकर जा सकता है। ऐसे छात्र भी हैं जिनको प्रकृति के विषय में समग्र ज्ञान पुस्तकों, ब्लैकबोर्ड तथा प्रयोगशाला में किए गए कुछ प्रयोगों से ही प्राप्त होता है। कुछ मामलों में हम कम्प्यूटर मॉनीटर भी शामिल कर सकते हैं। मैं चाहता हूँ कि पाठ्यक्रम में 'King Solomon's Ring' , जानवरों के व्यवहार के विषय में एक रोचक गौरवग्रंथ तथा 'Jungle and Backyard' स्वर्गीय एम. कृष्णन द्वारा संकलित निबंधों को पढ़ना भी सम्मिलित कर दिया जाए। यह एक खेद का विषय है कि हमारे बच्चे उस प्रसन्नता को प्राप्त नहीं कर पाते जो किसी बिल्ली, मछली या पेड़ को प्राकृतिक अवस्था में ध्यानपूर्वक देखने से प्राप्त होती है।

पाठ्य-पुस्तकों के अतिरिक्त अन्य पुस्तकों का हमारी प्रणाली में कोई महत्त्व नहीं है। वरना, चक्रवर्ती एस. वेंकटेश द्वारा पेड़ों के विषय में रचित एक विशिष्ट पुस्तक का प्रभाव पड़ा होता। इसके लिए आवश्यक समय, तथा अपने मन में चीज़ों से संबंध स्थापित करने की स्वतंत्रता का हमारे स्कूलों में कोई स्थान नहीं है क्योंकि ये सब कुछ पाठ्य-पुस्तकों तथा पाठ्य-पुस्तक आधारित परीक्षाओं द्वारा आबद्ध हैं।

मैं टोकियो चिड़ियाघर में भेड़िये के अहाते के बाहर बच्चों के एक बड़े समूह के साथ मिलना याद करता हूँ। कुछ घंटों के बाद मैंने पाया कि बच्चे और उनके शिक्षक तब भी भेड़िये के साथ ही व्यस्त थे। उन्होंने पूरा दिन भेड़िये के प्रत्येक अंग तथा उसके व्यवहार का अवलोकन करने, विवरण लिखने तथा अपने अवलोकनों की पुस्तक में दिए गए विवरणों के साथ तुलना करने में गुज़ार दिया था।

हमारे छात्रों को इस प्रकार के अवसर अथवा प्रशिक्षण नहीं मिलता। चिड़ियाघर के भ्रमण का अर्थ है वो सब कुछ जैसे हमारा पाठ्यक्रम, प्रत्येक विषयवस्तु तथा तथ्य को एक चक्रवात को तरह जल्दबाज़ी में प्रदान करता है। बच्चों का एक समूह साबरमती आश्रम में एक चित्र प्रदर्शनी में तेज़ी से चलता हुआ जा रहा था। दो लड़के एक चित्र के पास उसमें कुछ असाधारण बात देखते हुए कुछ मिनटों के लिए रुके। संत्रासित महसूस करते हुए मैंने देखा कि एक शिक्षिका लड़कों को ढूँढ़ते हुए वापिस आई और उन्हें देखने के बाद उसने पहले उन्हें पीछे रह जाने के लिए थप्पड़ लगाया और डांटा। स्कूल के बरामदों में घूमने वाले किसी भी व्यक्ति को यह मालूम पड़ जाएगा कि शिक्षक, समूह में अनुशासन को महत्त्व देते हैं न कि व्यक्तिगत उत्सुकता अथवा प्रयासों की प्रशंसा को।

Based on the given passage, answer the questions 31–35 :

We were nearly finished with listening to everybody's morning life when a myna came in, sat on the ceiling fan and started chattering loudly. Mala looked at her and said, "Sir, she too wants to talk about her morning routine!". This was a fine statement coming from Mala who was feeling a little inane since she had no special morning narrative to offer as a hosteller. Her remark cheered her up and everybody else too. It gave me an interesting idea which vaguely reflected the topic we had abandoned. I asked, 'how far do you think this myna has come from?' No one took this question seriously, but it propelled me to go a step further, 'what else is present in our class that might have come from afar?' It was obvious that I was now referring to non-human participants but were they living or non-living? This question came from Rupal, one of the habitual late comers. 'Never mind', I said, 'say whatever you notice'. She surprised everybody by saying that the electricity come from God knows where. Two students immediately intervened. 'you know it is coming from thermal power station'. "It might be coming from the national grid—it is all connected, you know." There was silence. Even the myna turned quiet. My job in such moments came down to prompting further, so I said, 'That's a great thought. Let us see if there are any other long-distance participants in our class.'

My students started spotting things at a wild, inspired speed. Dust on the desks! The air! The sound of traffic! The dust seemed to have travelled the longest distance indeed—from Rajasthan as everybody thought. I was ready to conclude. "So, is that the longest commuter?" We were uncertain, but not quite ready to let the quest die. Jaya said "The sun has travelled lakhs of miles." I was stunned. So was everyone else. We had become aware of a phenomenon we had never thought about, how the sun came from so far away to make our class happen. The unpredicted outcomes of learning are far more important than the ones we can predict and plan for.

हम, सभी के प्रातःकालीन जीवन के विषय में सुनना समाप्त कर ही रहे थे कि तभी एक मैना अंदर आई और छत पर लगे पंखे पर बैठ कर जोर से चीं-चीं करने लगी। माला ने उसे देखा और कहा, "सर, ये भी अपने प्रातःकालीन चर्या के विषय में बात करना चाहती है!" यह माला द्वारा दिया गया एक अच्छा कथन था क्योंकि वह थोड़ा सा निरर्थक महसूस कर रही थी, चूँकि उसके पास सुनाने के लिए कोई विशेष प्रातःकालीन वृत्तांत नहीं था। उसकी टिप्पणी ने उसे तथा और सभी को भी प्रसन्न कर दिया। इससे मुझे एक मज़ेदार विचार आया जिसने मुझे अस्पष्ट रूप में उसी विषय का संदर्भ मिला जिसे हम छोड़ चुके थे। मैंने पूछा, "तुम्हें क्या लगता है कि ये मैना कितनी दूर से आई होगी?" किसी ने भी इस प्रश्न को गंभीरता से नहीं लिया, किंतु इसने मुझे और एक कदम आगे बढ़ने के लिए प्रेरणा दी। "हमारी कक्षा में ऐसी और क्या चीज़ विद्यमान है जो बहुत दूर से आई होगी?" यह स्पष्ट था कि मैं अमानवीय सहभागियों के संदर्भ में कह रहा था, परन्तु वे सजीव थे या निर्जीव? यह प्रश्न रूपल ने पूछा, जिसकी आदत थी हमेशा देर से आना। "कोई बात नहीं।" मैंने कहा, तुम जो कुछ भी देखती हो, वही कहो। उसने यह कह कर कि 'बिजली तो भगवान जाने कहाँ से आती है', सबको आश्चर्यचकित कर दिया। दो विद्यार्थियों ने एकदम हस्तक्षेप किया, "तुम्हें पता है कि ये थर्मल पावर स्टेशन से आती है?" "ये उस राष्ट्रीय ग्रिड—जहाँ से यह संबद्ध है, से आ रही होगी।" नीरवता छा गई। यहाँ तक कि मैना भी शान्त हो गई। ऐसे समय में मेरा कार्य आगे प्रोत्साहित करने का था, इसलिए मैंने कहा, "यह एक उत्तम विचार है। चलो देखते हैं कि क्या हमारी कक्षा में दूर से आने वाले और प्रतिभागी भी हैं।"

मेरे छात्रों ने वस्तुओं को बहुत तेज़ी से तलाशना शुरू किया। मेज़ों पर धूल! हवा! वाहनों की आवाज़ें! धूल, शायद सबसे अधिक दूरी से यात्रा करके आई होगी—सबने सोचा शायद राजस्थान से। मैं निर्णय करने के लिए तत्पर था। "क्या यह सबसे दूर की यात्री है?" हम इस विषय में अनिश्चित थे किन्तु जिज्ञासा समाप्त करने के लिए तैयार नहीं थे। जया, "सूर्य ने लाखों मील दूर की यात्रा की है।" मैं भौंचक्का रह गया। बाकी सभी लोगों का भी यही हाल था। हमें एक ऐसी परिघटना की जानकारी प्राप्त हो चुकी थी जिसके बारे में हमने कभी सोचा भी नहीं था, सूर्य इतनी दूर से हमारी कक्षा के लिए आया। अधिगम के अप्रत्याशित परिणाम उन परिणामों से कहीं अधिक महत्त्वपूर्ण हैं जिन्हें हम पूर्वानुमानित करके उनके लिए योजना तैयार करते हैं।
