Answer:

2. (a) Dividend distribution tax payable by Himalaya Ltd.

As per section 115-0, dividend distribution tax at the rate of 17.304% (i.e., 15% plus surcharge @12%, education Cess @2% and Secondary and higher education cess@1%) is leviable on dividend declared, distributed or paid by a domestic company. As per section 115-0(1A), a holding company receiving dividend from its domestic subsidiary company can reduce the same from dividend declared, distributed or paid by it.

The dividend from its domestic Subsidiary Company should be received in the same financial year in which the holding Company declares, distributes or pays the dividend. Further, the dividend shall not be considered for reduction more than once.

The conditions to be fulfilled for this purpose are as follows:

- (1) The domestic subsidiary Company should have paid the dividend distribution tax which is payable on such dividend;
- (2) The recipient holding company should be a domestic company;

For this purpose, a holding Company is a company which holds more than 50% of the nominal value of equity shares of another company.

Section 115-0 (1B) provides that for the purposes of determining the tax on distributed profits payable in accordance with Section 115-0, any amount by way of dividends referred to in section 115-0(1), as reduced by the amount referred to in section 115-0(1A) referred to as net distributed profits, shall be increased to such amount as would, after reduction of the tax on such increased amount at the rate specified in section 115-0(1), be equal to the met distributed profits.

On the basis of the aforesaid provisions, dividend distribution tax payable by Himalaya Limited shall be computed as follows:

Particulars	₹
Dividend distributed by Himalaya Ltd.	60.0
Less: Dividend received from subsidiary Ganga Ltd. (70% of ₹ 40 lacs)	28.00
Net dividend	32.00
Add. Increase for the purpose of grossing up of dividend % 32 × 100/85 =	5.65
37.65 minus 32.00
Gross dividend 37.65 %	37.65
DDT at 17.304% on above 6.52 1.	6.52

(b) (i) Firm: Whether presumptive taxation u/s 44AD is to be opted Where books are maintained

Where the shows profits below 8% of the turnover, he/it should maintain books of account and get the accounts audited u/s 44AB.

In case of a firm, such profits are after deduction of interest and remuneration to partners; in other words, same cannot be deducted from the 8% amount so calculated.

Where the books are maintained and the accounts are audited as per section 44AB, the firm will be allowed deduction of the interest and remuneration, as per section 40(b). To the extent such payments are allowed in the hands of the firm, the same will be included in the individual hands of the partners.

Partners are already having total income in excess of ₹ 10 lakhs and hence any interest on capital and remuneration received from the firm will get taxed at 30.9%.

Particulars	₹
Income of the firm before interest and remuneration to partners	12,40,000
Less: interest on capital at 12%	2,40,000
Book profits of the firm as per section 40 (b)	10,00,000
Less: Remuneration to S	6,00,000
Lower of (90% of 3 lakhs and balance 60% of ₹ 7 lakhs) 6.9 lakhs;
Subject to Ceiling ₹ 6 lakhs as per partnership deed.
Note: Remuneration to non-working partners not allowable.
Total income of the firm	4,00,000

Tax rate is 30.9% for firm (₹ 1,23,600) as well as the incomes from firm apportioned to partners (since the income of partners before considering any receipt from firm already exceeds ₹ 10 lakhs). Hence income which will get taxed at 30.9% are 4 L+ 6 (Remuneration of S) and 2.4 L (interest on capitals) 12.4L at 30.9% ₹ 3,83,160/-.

When the firm opts for presumptive taxation

THICH HIS HITH OPIS TO PROSERIBITY OF TAXABLE IT
As per section 44AD, profits of the firm will be 8% of 90 lakhs	7,20,000
This alone will get taxed at 30.9% Tax payable will be ₹	2,22,480
Partnership deed should not contain any clause about payment of remuneration or interest to partners.
By opting for presumptive tax u/s 44AD, tax saving will be (3,83,180-	1,60,680
2,22,480)

- (ii) Where the assessee is a LLP
   For a LLP, there is no option to get assessed as per section 44AD.
   Hence, it is bound to maintain books of account and get its accounts audited u/s 44AB.

Answer:

4. (a)

Taxability in the hands of Ms. Pallavi for the A.Y. 2017-18

As per section 64(1)(iv) income from assets transferred directly or indirectly to the spouse by the individual is chargeable to tax in the hands of the individual. However, this will not apply Where the transfer is for adequate Consideration or in Connection with an agreement to live apart.

As per section 64(1)(vi) income from assets transferred directly or indirectly to son's wife is chargeable to tax in the hands of the transferor. This will not apply where such transfer is for adequate Consideration.

In this case, as per Explanation 3 income arising to Ms. Pallavi being wife 1 daughter in law is chargeable to tax in the hands of husband 1 father in law who gave gift. However, the computation would be in the proportion in which the capital on 1st Day of April of the previous year consisting of her own contribution and the funds given by husband 1 father in law.

The capital as on 01.04.2016 represents her own capital of  $\mathfrak{T}$  5 lakhs and gift amount of  $\mathfrak{T}$  7 lakhs given by the husband. The interest on capital of  $\mathfrak{T}$  1,88,000 will be apportioned in 5:7 ratio

The proportion attributable to own her capital being ₹1,88,000  $\times$  5 / 12 = ₹78,333 is chargeable to tax in her hands.

The proportion of capital representing the amount of gift given by husband is liable for clubbing under section 64(1) (iv) and the amount being ₹ 1,88,000 × 7/12 = ₹1.09.667.

The amount of gift given by father in law on 01.05.2016 and invested in the firm will not be liable for clubbing for the income arising there from for the financial year 2016-17.

The share income being exempt under Section 10(2A) has no significance in this regard.

  - (ii) ₹ 2 lakhs paid towards advertisement in a souvenir published by a political party, by way of account payee cheque;
  - (iii) One of the units of the company was closed and retrenchment compensation of ₹ 12 lakhs was paid to the employees in that unit;
  - (iv) Loss incurred by way of trading in commodity derivative transactions in recognized stock exchange relating to its agro division ₹ 2,20,000.

(b) Discuss the validity of following statements:

2x4=8

- (i) Mr. A has long term capital gain of ₹ 7 lakhs from sale of listed shares for the year 2016-17. He has no other income chargeable to tax. As the long term capital gain is exempt under section 10(38), he need not file his return of income for the Assessment Year 2017-18.
- (ii) A belated return under section 139(4) cannot be furnished after the end of the relevant assessment year.

- (iii) A belated return filed under section 139(4) cannot be revised.
- (iv) Where the return is filed without payment of self-assessment tax it would be deemed as defective return.

Answer:

- 6. (a) Treatment of given items while computing business income of company
  - (i) ₹ 16,00,000 has to be added back. Section 35DDA provides for amortization of expenditure incurred under voluntary retirement scheme over a period of five years in equal installments. The company is, therefore, entitled to deduction of ₹ 4,00,000, being one-fifth of the total sum of ₹ 20,00,000 paid to 10 workmen in connection with their voluntary retirement for the relevant assessment year.
  - (ii) This amount has to be disallowed.

    Section 37(2B) prohibits allowance of any expenditure incurred by an assessee on advertisement in any souvenir, brochure, tract, pamphlet or the like published by a political party. As such, advertisement charges paid in respect of souvenir published by a political party is not allowable as deduction from business profits of the company, and hence has to be added back while computing business income.
  - (iii) Retrenchment compensation paid to employees at the time of closure of one of the units of the business is allowable as deduction as per the decision of the Allahabad High Court in CIT V. JK Cotton Spinning & Weaving Co. Ltd. (2005) 145 taxman 591.

    Since the same has been debited to the Profit and Loss A/c, no further
  - (iv) Loss of ₹ 2,00,000 incurred by way of trading in commodity derivatives in recognized stock exchange is not a speculative transaction in view of proviso to section 43(5). Since the same is incurred in relation to the business of agro textiles, the same is allowable as deduction while computing income from business.

Since the same has been debited to the Profit and loss A/c, no further adjustment is required.

(b) Validity of the given statements adjustment is required.

- (i) Invalid,
  As per Sixth proviso to section 139(1) if the total income of the assessee exceeds the basic exemption limit before giving effect to exemption under section 10(38), it is mandatory for him to file the return of income.

  The total income in this case is NL but if section 10(38) is not applied, it exceeds the basic exemption limit and hence the return of income has to be furnished on mandatory basis.
- (ii) Valid
  The Finance Act, 2016 has reduced the time limit for filing belated return under section 139(4). Thus, a belated return cannot be filed after the end of the relevant assessment year,
- (iii) Invalid.
  Section 139(5) now provides for revision of a return of income filed within the time stipulated u/s 139(1), as well as a belated return filed u/s 139(4).
- (iv) Invalid
  Previously if a return is furnished without payment of self assessment tax, such return Would be treated as defective return. The Finance Act, 2016 has inserted clause (aa) in the Explanation to section 139(9) whereby a return which is otherwise valid Would not be treated as defective merely because self assessment tax was not paid on or before the date of furnishing the return.

Determine the income-tax liability in respect of each of the shareholders, in respect of the aforesaid receipts.

(b) Raghunath (P) Ltd. is engaged in multiple business activities. It has brought forward business loss of Assessment Year 2010-11 of ₹ 15 lakhs and unabsorbed depreciation of ₹ 20 lakhs. The company has 10 shareholders each having 10% of the equity share capital of the company.

- (i) How much of accumulated loss and unabsorbed depreciation, the company could carry forward to the subsequent assessment years?
- (ii) Assume, the company converted into LLP in April, 2017. In the light of such conversion consider the amount of accumulated loss and depreciation which it can carry forward. Will there be any reduction of benefit on violation of any condition?

Answer:

7. (a) From the assessment year 2017-18, as per section 115BBDA, where a share holder, being an individual, HUF or a firm, being residents, receive dividends from Indian companies on which DDT has been paid u/s 115-0) in excess of ₹ 10 lakhs, exemption u/s 10(38) will be only upto ₹ 10 lakhs and excess amount will be charged to tax at 10% plus 3% education cess.

In this regard, the term "dividend" will have the meaning assigned in section 2(22). However deemed dividend u/s 2(22)(e) is excluded.

For computing the tax liability u/s 115BBDA, no deduction will be allowed from the dividend income. Thus interest on borrowings for making the investment in shares will not be considered while computing the tax liability u/s 115BBDA.

Deemed dividend u/s 2(22)(e)

Janak (individual) holds more than 10% of the holdings in equity shares of the closely held company and hence loan to him is covered by section 2(22)(e).

Though the loan amount is  $\ref{7}$  lakhs, the deemed dividend is restricted to  $\ref{5}$  lakhs, since the credit balance in P&L a/c is  $\ref{5}$  lakhs only, as on the date of loan,

Tax liability of Janak (individual)	₹ Lakhs
Dividend received (normal) 12% of 50 lakhs	6
Deemed dividend u/s 2(22)(e) to be included in income from other sources
Not included for Section 115BBDA
Since normal dividend received is less than ₹ 10 lakhs, tax liability u/s
115BBDA is nil
Tax liability of Janak (HUF)
Dividend received (normal) at 5% of 50 lakhs	2.5
Dividend received from equity oriented mutual fund is not covered by	Nil
section 115BBDA
Dividend received being less than ₹ 10 lakhs, section 115BBDA will not apply
Tax liability of Thilagam & Co. (LLP)
Dividend received (normal) 30% of 50 lakhs	15
Less: Exempt u/s 10(34)	10
Amount taxable u/s 115BBDA at 10.3% interest on borrowings is not	5
deductible for Section 115BBDA
Tax liability u/s 115BBDA at 10.3%	51,500

Tax liability of B Pvt. Ltd.

For the R of section 115BBDA, corporate shareholders are not covered.

Hence the dividend received will not be hit by section 115BBDA, regardless of the quantum of dividend received.

(b)

(i) Carry forward accumulated loss and depreciation:

In the case of a Company in which public are not Substantially interested, the unabsorbed business loss can be carried forward and set off provided there is no change in pattern to the extent of 51%.

Change in shareholding pattern as enumerated hereunder:

4 Shareholder transferred shares on Oct, 2016

40%

1 Shareholder died on Feb,2017

10% 50%

In this case, during the previous year relevant to the assessment year 2017-18, out of 100%, 40% of the shareholders have transferred their shares. The balance 10% of the shareholders got changed because of the reasons such as death of shareholder.

Change in shareholding due to gift of shares to son has taken place in the subsequent year only. (August, 2017)

Therefore, the entire brought forward business loss and depreciation after set off against the profits of the previous year 2016-17 is eligible for carry forward.

The unabsorbed business loss would be set off against the income of  $\ref{10}$  lakhs and the balance of unabsorbed business loss of  $\ref{5}$  lakhs and unabsorbed depreciation of  $\ref{20}$  lakhs would be eligible for carry forward.

The business loss of the assessment year 2010-11 is eligible for carry forward up to the assessment year 2017-18 and the depreciation is eligible for carry forward infinitum. In fact, since the business loss is eligible for only 8 year carry forward, it is set off first and the depreciation is retained for set off as it has no time limitation.

- (a) Regular assessment
- (b) Protective assessment
- (c) Best judgement assessment
- (d) Liability of members after partition of HUF
- (e) Powers of Commissioner (Appeals)

Answer:

8. (a) Regular Assessment:

The term "regular assessment" is defined in section 2(40) to mean assessment made under section 143(3) or section 144.

When the Assessing Officer makes an order under section 143(3) after serving notice under section 143(2), it is called as regular assessment.

Where there is failure on the part of the assessee to furnish the return of income called for or for furnishing the details sought for or similar faults listed in the section, the best judgment assessment made u/s 144 is also a regular assessment.

The time limit for regular assessment is 21 months from the end of the assessment year in which the income was first assessable.

(b) Protective Assessment

When there is an ambiguity or dubt as regards a person in whose hands the income is chargeable to tax, the Revenue would make assessment on both the persons.

This is made as a matter of caution to protect the interest of the Revenue. After the clearance of ambiguity, one assessment would get cancelled. It is not defined in the Act but it is in vogue.

There is no time limit specifically provided for completing or cancelling the protective assessment. When the regular assessment of any other assessment is made by way of protective assessment, the time limit contained therein will apply.

Protective assessment can be made, but penalty cannot be levied on protective basis.

(C) Best Judgment Assessment:

When the assessee fails to make a return under section 139(1) or under section 139(4) or in response to notice under section 142(1) the Assessing Officer may make an assessment to the best of his judgment.

This would be based on the materials available on record.

An opportunity of being heard however has to be given to the assessee before making such assessment.

The time limit for best judgment assessment is given in section 153(1) viz. 21 months from the end of the assessment year in which the income was first assessable.

(d) Liability of members after partition of HUF

In case total partition took place during the previous year, the total income of the joint family in respect of the period up to the date of partition shall be assessed as if so far no partition had taken place.

Each member or group of members shall, in addition to any tax for which he or it may be separately liable and not withstanding' anything contained in section 10(2), be jointly and Severally liable for the tax on the income So assessed and in case total partition took place after the expiry of the previous year, the total income of the previous year of the joint family shall be assessed as if no partition had taken place. Each member shall be jointly and severally liable for the tax on the income so assessed.

In case partial partition had taken place after 31.12.1978, the HUF shall continue to be liable to be assessed under this Act as if no such partial partition had taken place and each member shall be jointly and severally liable for any tax, penalty, interest, fine or other Sum payable under this Act.

(e) Powers of Commissioner (Appeals)

The powers of CIT are co-terminus with that of the Assessing Officer and he can do everything which an AO can do or he has omitted to do.

While deciding an appeal, the CIT (A) may either confirm, reduce, enhance or annul the assessment.

While deciding appeal against levy of penalty the CT(A) may either confirm such order or cancel such order or vary it SO as to either enhance Or reduce the penalty. If the original assessment itself its invalid the CT(A) cannot make enhancement in such case since he cannot validate and originally invalid assessment.
