

UPSC Mains Syllabus General Studies Paper 3
Indian Economy, including planning, resource mobilization, growth, development, and employment difficulties.
Inclusive growth and the problems it raises.
Budgeting of Government
Major crops, patterns of cropping in various regions of the nation, various types of irrigation and irrigation systems, challenges with storage, transport, and marketing of agricultural products, and related limitations; the use of e-technology by farmers.
Concerns about buffer stocks and food security, direct and indirect farm subsidies, and minimum support prices; Public Distribution System goals, operations, and shortcomings; Technology missions; and the economics of animal husbandry.
Food processing and related sectors in India: their size and importance, where they are, what is needed upstream and downstream, and supply chain management.
Indian land reforms
The economic implications of liberalization, changes to industrial policy, and how these affect the expansion of the industrial sector.
Infrastructure includes things like ports, roads, airports, and railroads.
Models for investments
Science and technology breakthroughs and how they are used and impact daily life.
Scientific and technological advances made by Indians, indigenization of technology, and the creation of new technology.
Awareness of issues relating to intellectual property rights as well as IT, space, computers, robotics, nanotechnology, and biotechnology.
Environmental impact assessment, pollution and degradation of the environment, and conservation.
Disasters and disaster management; Relationships between extremism's growth and dissemination.
The contribution of non-state and state actors from outside to the problems with domestic security.
Threats to internal security posed by communication networks, the media's and social media's role in such threats, the fundamentals of cyber security, and money laundering and its prevention.
Security issues and how to manage them in border regions – connections between organized

Crime and Terrorism.

The function of various security agencies and organizations